Leadership & Spirit
Breathing New Vitality and Energy into Individuals and Organizations by
Russ S. Moxley

Purpose of the Book
Moxley “seeks to show how leadership and spirit can be linked to promote new vitality and energy in individuals and organizations” (p. xiii).

Part One: Two Threads: Leadership and Spirit
Chapter 1: Weaving Together Leadership and Spirit.
We are constituted of four domains: physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual. The spirit gives energy to all the rest.

Chapter 2: Understanding and Experiencing Spirit.
We experience and understand spirit internally and interpersonally in community and in our workplaces.

Chapter 3: Leadership that Constrains Spirit.
Traditional leadership, “Man on the white horse,” limits the expression and growth of our spiritual life.

Chapter 4: An Inspiring Alternative: Partnership
A situation that fills the requirements for partnership enhances our spiritual life.

Part Two: Ways of Being, Ways of Doing
Chapter 5: Who Are We to Be?
We need to know ourselves and how we got to be what we are very well in order to claim our gifts and deal with our shadows.

Chapter 6: Developing Our Inner Life
Developing our inner life requires practicing both reflective and active disciplines in our lives.

Chapter 7: What Are We to Do?
For partnership-as-leadership to work we must make choices about what actions we take and how we take them. There are actions to be taken by all, by those in designated leadership roles, and by those in “follower” roles.

Chapter 8: Fostering Community
Community, particularly a learning community, is vital to the spiritual life of an individual. We can foster community through the choices we make in and for our workplaces.

Epilogue
We have choices to make if leadership and spirit are to interwoven. Ten choices are presented here.
Leadership is both a research area and a practical skill encompassing the ability of an individual, group or organization to "lead", influence or guide other individuals, teams, or entire organizations. Often viewed as a contested term, specialist literature debates various viewpoints, contrasting Eastern and Western approaches to leadership, and also (within the West) North American versus European approaches. "Leadership and Spirit is a clear and insightful roadmap to bringing vitality and hope back into our institutions. It will renew your capacity to create harmony between your own values and how your bring leadership to work."(Peter Block, author, Stewardship and Flawless Consulting).
