LibriVox recording of Institutes of the Christian Religion Vol. 1, by John Calvin. Institutes of the Christian Religion is John Calvin's seminal work on Protestant systematic theology. Highly influential in the Western world and still widely read by theological students today, it was published in Latin in 1536 and in his native French in 1541, with the definitive editions appearing in 1559 (Latin) and in 1560 (French). Book One of the Institutes treats of the knowledge of God, considered as the Creator, Preserver, and Governor of the world, and of every thing contained in it. (Summary from Wikipedia & preface). What I got was the Institutes of Christian Religion, Book 1. There was nothing in the product explanation that said it was only book 1, and the "Look Inside" doesn't show the page in the book where it says "Volume 1". I was expecting all four books, as the Hardcover version has. Do not buy the paperback if you are expecting the complete Institutes. Institutes of the Christian Religion, John Calvin's masterpiece, a summary of biblical theology that became the normative statement of the Reformed faith. It was first published in 1536 and was revised and enlarged by Calvin in several editions before the definitive edition was published in 1559. Institutes of the Christian Religion, Latin Christianae Religionis Institutio, French Institution de la Religion Chrétienne, John Calvin’s masterpiece, a summary of biblical theology that became the normative statement of the Reformed faith. It was first published in 1536 and was revised and enlarged by Calvin in several editions before the definitive edition was published in 1559. Institutes of the Christian Religion, The Institution of The Christian Religion, written in Latin, by master John Calvin, and translated into English according to the authors last edition. Seen and allowed according to the order appointed in the Queries majesties injunctions. Introduction. By the rev. John murray, M.a., th.M. As we bring even elementary understanding to bear upon our reading of the Institutes we shall immediately discover the profound sense of the majesty of God, veneration for the Word of God, and the jealous care for faithful exposition and systematization which were marked features of the author. And because of this we shall find the Institutes to be suffused with the warmth of godly fear. The Institutes is not only the classic of Christian theology; it is also a model of Christian devotion.
