The National Black Catholic Clergy Caucus is hosting a prayer service in preparation for the consistory elevating Archbishop Wilton Daniel Gregory to the Office of Cardinal. To register please go here: http://bit.ly/FirstCardinal. Even if you can't be on the call please remember to pray for Archbishop Gregory as he takes on this new responsibility in the Church. Black Catholics of New Orleans. September 21 Â· Mrs. Jeannie Graetz was a member of the Civil Rights panel at Resurrection Catholic Mission in February for our pilgrimage, From New Orleans to Montgomery. New King James Version The people who walked in darkness Have seen a great light; Those who dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, Upon them a light has shined. New American Standard Bible The people who walk in darkness Will see a great light; Those who live in a dark land, The light will shine on them. NASB 1995 The people who walk in darkness Will see a great light; Those who live in a dark land, The light will shine on them. Brenton Septuagint Translation O people walking in darkness, behold a great light: ye that dwell in the region and shadow of death, a light shall shine upon you. Contemporary English Version Those who walked in the dark have seen a bright light. And it shines upon everyone who lives in the land of darkest shadows. New Orleans is a major United States port and the largest city and metropolitan area in the state of Louisiana. It houses more than 500,000 people in the city itself, with around 1.2 million in the greater area. Gothic-Punk New Orleans is much more populous than the actual city of New Orleans. Supernaturals often live much closer together than elsewhere, with fruitful instances of cooperation between vampires, mages and werewolves being possible in the past. New Orleanians are notoriously late showing up, if they show up at all, because by and large they don’t keep calendars. Calendars are tools for managing the future, and in New Orleans the future doesn’t exist. Life in New Orleans is all about making the present â€” this moment, right now â€” as pleasant as possible. So New Orleanians, by and large, aren’t tortured by the frenzy to achieve, acquire, and manage the unmanageable future. 10. Poppy Z Brite’s books.
