The Sermon on the Mount is the title commonly given to the collection of sayings recorded in Matthew 5-7 and in Luke 6:20-49. The latter is sometimes called the Sermon on the Plain from the fact that it is said to have been delivered on a level space somewhere on the descent of the mountain. The Sermon appears to be an epitome of the teachings of Jesus concerning the kingdom of heaven, its subjects and their life. For this reason it has always held the first place of attention and esteem among the sayings of Jesus. See SERMON ON THE PLAIN. I. Parallel Accounts. As indicated above, the Sermon i The sermon on the mount. The Key to Success in Life. AND. THIS book is the distilled essence of years of Bible and metaphysical study, and of the many lectures I have delivered. It would have been easier to have made it twice its present length. My object, however, is to present the reader with a practical manual of spiritual development, and, with this end in view, I have condensed the subject matter into the smallest compass possible, because, as every student knows, conciseness of expression is of the greatest assistance in mastering any subject. Â Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus told us that when we seek God first, we will have all that we need. â€œSeek the Kingdom of God above all else, and live righteously, and He will give you everything you need.â€ (Matthew 6:33). In the book of Psalms, David instructed us to set our heart on God. â€œTake delight in the LORD, and He will give you your heart's desires.â€ When we make God our treasure, His desires will be our desires and we will have all that we need in abundanceâ€”in this life, and forever in heaven.
