Parents,

This week we have focused on the season Spring. Our stories, poems, and songs were centered around this topic. Our Smartboard activities helped reinforce vocabulary words as well as math skills. Please practice vocabulary words daily. We practice daily in class, and we also try to read to sound out nonsense words or words we don’t know. We are down to our final few weeks of school, but we will stay focused.

Please remember to return homework when it is sent. Our 100 book challenge is still underway. Thank you so much for reading so many minutes during Spring break. Please remember to sign and record the number of minutes spent reading. It is so important to read daily because it helps in so many ways. Important skills can be mastered when students read daily, whether listening to stories or reading on their own. We will continue to encourage our students to read at home. In class we read big books, and students take turns to read stories.

The students really enjoyed the play today entitled “The Bremen Town Musicians”. I was super proud of their behavior. It was a pleasant trip. Our upcoming trip is April 27. I sent notes to the first four responders who were interested in chaperoning. I need to determine if other interested parents can drive. I will let you know as soon as possible. Thank you for your interest in going. The students should enjoy picking strawberries, a hayride, and an educational class.

We want to thank those parents and family members who came to our 3rd Awards Day. Thank you to those who sent snacks or supplies this week. We appreciate it. Thanks for all you do. Have a fantastic weekend.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Belton

******************************************************************************************

4/27 - Field Trip to McLeod’s Farm

sincerely (comparative more sincerely, superlative most sincerely). In a sincere or earnest manner; honestly. I sincerely hope they make it home safely. (US) A conventional formula for ending a letter, used when the salutation addresses the person for whom the letter is intended by his or her name. â€œSincerelyâ€œ means proceeding from genuine feelings or beliefs. However, much in the sense of â€œdearâ€œ as an opening, â€œyoursâ€œ as a closing is a formality rather than a pledge of devotion and attachment. â€œSincerely yoursâ€œ indicates that the person sending the correspondence (and the information and sentiments presented) are trustworthy.

Sincerely Yours vs. Yours Sincerely. Whether you use â€œSincerely Yoursâ€œ or â€œYours Sincerelyâ€œ depends on where you live. Americans use â€œSincerely Yoursâ€œ and â€œSincerely yours.â€œ Sincerely definition is - in a sincere or truthful way : with truth, genuineness, or straightforwardness â€œoften used as a complimentary close with or without yours. How to use sincerely in a sentence.â€œ George Clooney, a pleasant man, tries sincerely to give some credibility to Kelvin, and if he doesn't earn our belief, at least he has our sympathy.â€œ Stanley Kauffmán The room was quiet until a student in the back of the room let out an enormous belch and said, not too sincerely, "Sorry."â€œ