The book under review is written by scholars of great erudition and of subtle professional intuition. It was the combination of these characteristics that permitted them to get into one book detailed information about the first three years of independent development of all post-soviet states. General conclusions to the whole book embrace the evaluation of the causes, means and comparative perspectives of the process of upheaval on the vast Eurasian terrain as well as of their conceivable future and the ways of interaction with the Western world. Russia and the fourteen new states on its borders must now deal with a new and unpredictable international environment even as they struggle with political and economic chaos at home. Russia and the New States of Eurasia, first published in 1994, focuses on the central role of Russia in this new world and surveys the possibilities for future alignments both among the new states, and between the new states and their neighbours. This book brings together archaeological investigations of Eurasian regimes and revolutions ranging from the Bronze Age to the modern day, from Eastern Europe and the Caucasus in the west to the Mongolian steppe and the Korean Peninsula in the east. This book surveys relations among the new states and neighboring countries, and identifies the key issues that will determine the long-term economic growth and political stability of this vast and vital region. Be the first to ask a question about Russia and the New States of Eurasia. Lists with This Book. This book is not yet featured on Listopia. Russia and the fourteen new states on its borders must now deal with a new and unpredictable international environment even as they struggle with political and economic chaos at home. Russia and the New States of Eurasia, first published in 1994, focuses on the central role of Russia in this new world and surveys the possibilities for future alignments both among the new states, and between the new states and their neighbours. The Upheaval in Comparative Perspective. 289. Russia the West and the Future of Eurasia. 294. Chronology of Events January 1992 to October 1993. 298. Compendium of Leadership and Institutional Changes in the Eurasian States January 1992 to October 1993. 311. Soviet Census Data Union Republic and ASSR 1989. Please also list any non-financial associations or interests (personal, professional, political, institutional, religious or other) that a reasonable reader would want to know about in relation to the submitted work. This pertains to all the authors of the piece, their spouses or partners. Yes No. More information *. Please enter details of the conflict of interest or select 'No'. Please tick the box to confirm you agree to our Terms of use. * Please accept terms of use. Please tick the box to confirm you agree that your name, comment and conflicts of interest (if accepted) will be v