Learning, and reading this book. My own research is focused on how trainee teachers in the learning and skills sector make sense of the assessment requirements that they have to meet whilst studying for their teacher training qualifications. From this perspective, as well as from my perspective as a teacher educator, I have radically changed my own ideas about what I think learning is, and how it can be made to happen. I have tried to keep this reader in mind, whilst at the same time providing sufficient depth for the more academically experienced reader. As teachers and trainers in the Lifelong Learning Sector, we will at times encounter a bewildering variety of learners, and many of them will have very different reasons for wanting to take part. Find many great new & used options and get the best deals for The Lifelong Learning Sector: Reflective Reader by SAGE Publications Ltd (Paperback, 2010) at the best online prices at eBay! Free delivery for many products! She is the author of a number of books, including Teaching, Tutoring and Training in the Lifelong Learning Sector and Managing Behaviour in the Lifelong Learning Sector. Country of Publication. United Kingdom. This book provides an overview of the Lifelong Learning Sector while also helping students engage with professional writing. Each chapter in the book is presented as an independently authored 'paper' concentrating on a key theme, including professionalism, reflective practice and how previous experience can shape teaching. Guidance and discussion notes follow to help the reader evaluate the writing and approach, and activities are included to develop the readers' own professional skills in reading and writing. This is an invaluable text for all those working towards QTLS, coveri